United Way Regina Mission:

To improve Lives and build community by engaging individuals and mobilizing collective action.

United Way Regina Values:

To improve lives and build community by engaging individuals and mobilizing collective action

United Way Regina continues their work as agents of change in the community of Regina focusing on three main areas:

All That Kids Can Be

From Poverty to Possibility

Health People, Strong Communities

The priority for Regina United Way at this time is “All That Kids Can Be”

A child’s brain is 90% developed by age five, making early childhood education critical. Each year, the United Way invests in outcome-oriented programs that demonstrate a measurable difference in improving lives of those served. Our partners support children and their families needing help,

From Poverty to Possibility

United Way is helping people to stabilize, develop their skills and prepare for the jobs of tomorrow.

From housing stability and food security to job skills training and financial literacy, the United Way invests in outcome-oriented programs, ensuring more people realize a financially stable future.

Health People, Strong Communities

Everyday people in our city experience life events that place them in a position where they need help.

United Way is investing in outcome-oriented programs, ensuring people have access to crisis support, help navigate our complex systems and make informed decisions about possible solutions.

As with most charities in Canada, United Way Regina continues to see a decline in their annual donations. Workplace campaigns are no longer as successful, government support has decreased, and the corporate world is more selective in the support they offer in the community. United Way Regina Board of Directors is aware of this trend and is constantly monitoring the situation, following provincial and national trends and searching for new ways to work with the community to achieve the necessary goals.

As well as the United Way Board of Directors, I am a member of the Resource Development Committee.

The second seat for a board member designated from the labour community is currently vacant.

Donna Ottenson (CUPE 3761)
